Women's United States Championship Schedule of Play

A group of prosperous businessmen were dining at the Sam's Town Hotel in Las Vegas.

"Seems to me you are getting a little slimmer," remarked one.

"I should be!" replied the other. "I went on one of those high protein diets. Nothing but expensive steaks and chops. And would you believe it?-in just two weeks I lost thirty dollars!"

When the lodge meeting broke up, John confided to a friend. "Mike, I'm in a terrible pickle! I'm strapped for cash and I haven't the slightest idea where I'm going to get it from!"

"I'm glad to hear that" answered Mike.

"I was afraid you might have an idea you could borrow it from me!"

Baker led the S9 against 4H. Wolpert won in dummy and discarded a small diamond. Wolpert played ace of hearts, jack of hearts, losing to Baker's queen. Baker exited with the SQ, Wolpert winning in dummy and tossing another small diamond. The H3 went to the king and a small club was led to the king in dummy. The club spots were evil for Wolpert. Baker was able to collect three clubs and the heart queen for down one.

There was much more action in the other room. Westheimer thought her 4-4 in the blacks with 11 HCP was worth a vulnerable takeout double opposite her passed hand partner. Bernstein showed her values and Disa, looking at a four count with six spades and a singleton club, decided to take the early save. Bernstein made the sporting double with her ace/king of trump and two outside aces. Wheeler started with a heart to Bernstein's jack. Bernstein cashed the king of trump and the ace of hearts and exited with a heart. When the smoke cleared, the game was down three.

North/South have only 16 HCP between them, but distribution is a powerful asset in bridge. When 5D passed around to Simson, he tapped the table, choosing to defend.

East/West started with four losers and ended with four losers...

Pollack wasn't going away so easily. When 5D-P-P got to him, he bid 5S. Lair had 10 HCP and his partner had opened the bidding. He thought he had a real chance to defeat the contract so he doubled.

Lair led the diamond deuce, won in dummy with the ace. Pollack played the singleton heart toward his hand. Jackson rose with the HA and played back a trump. Pollack finessed and it won.

He now made an interesting play. There was a negative double on his left so he took the "double ruffing finesse" in hearts. He led the queen out of hand and Lair erred. He ducked. Pollack pitched a club from dummy, ruffed a heart, ruffed a diamond to his hand, ruffed another heart, ruffed another diamond, and pulled Jackson's last trump. At this point, he had 11 tricks. Had Lair covered, Pollack would have been down one for a loss of 7 IMPs. Instead, he was making. 13 IMPs to Meltzer

I work as a pediatric nurse, and often have the painful job of giving shots to the children. One day upon entering the examining room to give a shot the little girl starting screaming "NO! NO!"

"Jessica" her mother scolded, "that is not polite behavior!"

At that the girl continued to scream "NO THANK YOU! NO THANK YOU!"...

Jerry was in the hospital recovering from surgery when a nurse asks him how he is feeling.

"I'm OK but I didn't like the four-letter-word the doctor used in surgery," he answered.

"What did he say," asked the nurse.

"OOPS!"...

Before going in for surgery I thought it would be funny if I posted a note on myself telling the surgeon to be careful. After the surgery I found another note on myself."Anyone know where my cell phone is????????

The swings started on Board 2 in the Lynch/Street match. Carolyn opened four diamonds on her 8-card suit; Chorush overcalled 4S and bought the contract.

Passell led his singleton diamond to the ten and jack. Carolyn returned the deuce which Chorush ruffed with the trump king, promoting Passell's nine. Chorush cashed the SA, one high heart and conceded two trump tricks. Contract making.

At the other table, Bates and Hayden got too high. It's hard to fault Hayden for his optimism when his partner made a four level overcall, vulnerable against not. It is hard to evaluate which contract is better: 6S or 6NT. Both contracts fail when the SQ is offside third, however, 6S goes down even when spades are 2-2 if the queen is offside. The slam failed by two tricks. 13 IMPs to Street

The second swing came on Board 4. Both tables arrived in a "normal" 3NT contract from East.

Bates never had to think about the opening lead. His partner helped him by opening the bidding, and he dutifully led partner's suit... no need for heroics here. The ST went to the king and Street played three high clubs. He led the CT to Bates's jack and Bates continued spades to Street's ace. Street led a diamond to the king in dummy and cashed the club nine. He returned to his diamond ace and conceded down two.

Things were quite different at Lynch's table. Lall didn't open the bidding and Chorush got off to the inspired lead of a low heart from his QTx. Lall won the

Lynch now had two spades, one heart, two diamonds, and four clubs for nine. Contract making.

The third double digit swing came on Board 5. Passell had a misunderstanding somewhere along the line. They were way too high in the Moysian slam.

Lall led the H9, Carolyn disdaining the finesse and winning her ace. She pulled two rounds of trump and led the DQ off dummy. When this held, she continued with a diamond to the ten, Chorush pitching a low heart. Carolyn cashed the DA, played a spade to dummy's king, ducked by Chorush, and the last diamond was ruffed. Carolyn played a spade from hand, Chorush winning. He continued spades, ruffed by dummy's trump queen. Carolyn conceded down two.

Things were quite different in the other room. Street opened 1C and Bates bid 2D showing the majors. Shenkin doubled and Hayden chose spades. When it got back to Shenkin, he bid 3NT, ending the auction.

Hayden led the S5 to the 4, A, and 7. Bates continued spades to the king, Hayden safely unblocking the queen! Three rounds of high clubs were followed by the diamond finesse. Before the opponents could regain the lead, Shenkin collected his four clubs, three diamonds, one heart and one spade for nine. Contract making.

And the swings continue: Board 6!

It is surprising that Street/Shenkin with 24 HCP combined would allow Hayden/Bates to buy the contract for 3S undoubled. In fact, I would have thought Shenkin promised one more call after his 3C bid. He was an unpassed hand, after all.

Bates lost the predictable seven tricks: two hearts, a heart ruff, the diamond ace, the ace and king of clubs, and trump ten from the T9xx. Had Shenkin balanced with a double, Street might well have rested, collecting +500... not enough to compensate for the vulnerable game, but a whole lot better than getting +150.

Lall didn't give this option to Lynch and Passell. They had to bid their game since the opponents never bid over the one level.

Chorush led the S6 to the Q, K, 4. Lall continued spades to declarer's ten and partner's ace, dummy pitching a small diamond. Chorush switched to the DK which Carolyn won with dummy's ace. In rapid time, Carolyn cashed six rounds of clubs and two top hearts to go with her already collected DA. Nine tricks and a vulnerable game.

The pentultimate double digit swing of the first set... Passell led a small heart against 3NT. Chorush ducked it to his jack. Chorush played a club to the king and Lynch's ace. Lynch couldn't lead a heart from her side successfully... a spade just looks wrong given dummy's holding... a diamond is futile since the suit is all blocked even if Mike holds them... so Carolyn played back her small club. Ira won the queen and continued clubs to Passell's jack. Passell put another heart through the AQ, Carolyn collecting her king.

Carolyn continued hearts to dummy's ace. Chorush played a diamond to his ace and ran off three rounds of clubs. Mike pitched a spade and Carolyn was feeling the squeeze. In the end, Chorush played his SK to his SA felling Mike's queen and Carolyn's nine in the process. Carolyn's ten fell under the jack, and Chorush ended with 10 tricks for +630 and 11 IMPs to Street.

The last double digit swing of the first set occurred on Board 14.

Lynch was taking no prisoners. She opened 4H and bought the contract. The play was simple: 8 hearts and two outside aces.

It didn't look like a swing ...

At the other table, Street counted a trick short of game and opened his 14 HCP a strong two clubs. Bates was able to interfere so he did. He bid 3C; Shenkin passed; Hayden muddied the waters with a lead directing 3D. Street finally got to bid his real hand: 4H, and Bates, not realizing that Hayden was showing club support and a desire for a diamond lead, bid 5D!! Shenkin wasn't in on the joke. He wasn't even sure whose hand it was so he took the middle road and bid 5H.

Street had the same ten tricks that Carolyn had... only he was one level higher.

Down one.

Bertha turned to him. "Look," she cried furiously through her tears, "if you don't like the play why don't you go home and let me enjoy myself?"

- When women are depressed they either eat or go shopping. When men are depressed, they invade another country.
- A man is a person who will pay £2 for a £1 item he wants. A woman, however, will pay £1 for a £2 item that she doesn't want.
- Diamonds are a girl's best friend. Dogs are a man's best friend. Now you know which sex is smarter.
- It's not true that men prefer foolish women. Rather they prefer women who can pretend to be foolish whenever necessary, which is the very core of intelligence.
- Men always want to be a woman's first love. Women have a more subtle instinct: What they like is to be a man's last romance.
- To be happy with a man, a woman must understand him a lot and love him a little. To be happy with a woman, a man must love her a lot and not try to understand her at all.
- A woman marries a man expecting he will change, but he doesn't. A man marries a woman expecting that she won't change and she does.
- Men marry because they are tired; women marry because they are curious. Both are disappointed.
- A woman worries about the future until she gets a husband, while a man never worries about the future until he gets a wife.
- A woman will always cherish the memory of the man who wanted to marry her; a man will always cherish the memory of the woman who he didn't.
- There are two times when a man doesn't understand a woman before marriage and after marriage.
- Only two things are necessary for a man to do to keep his wife happy. One is to let her think she is having her own way, and the other is to let her have it.
- Married men live longer than single men, but married men are a lot more willing to die.
- Any married man should forget his mistakes it's no use two people remembering the same thing.
- Some husbands are living proof that a woman can take a joke.
- Husbands are like cars: all are good the first year.
- A woman has the last word in any argument. Anything a man says after that is the beginning of a new argument.

Harry was finally a groom and was very excited about his upcoming marriage. He was on his way out of the office when his boss came over to him with an outstretched hand, "congratulations Harry, I just wanted to tell you I've been married for twenty two years, and I am sure that you will always remember this day with the fondest of memories, as the happiest day of your life." "But sir", said Harry, "a little bit confused, I'm not getting married until tomorrow!" "Yeah, I know", said his boss

Declarer than cleared hearts, ruffed out the black suits, ending in North and led the D8.

East thought for a while, then followed small and told declarer that he had had no problem.

Declarer played the DK, playing East to have 4 small diamonds for the comment.

Appeals Committee Ruling

Note that 5H was played from the North side.

The appeal:

North and East were present.

The TD explained that he ruled per Law 73F:

Violation of Proprieties

When a violation of the Proprieties described in this law results in damage to an innocent opponent, if the director determines that an innocent player has drawn a false inference from a remark, manner, tempo or the like of an opponent who has no demonstrable bridge reason for the action, and who could have known, at the time of the action, that the action could work to his benefit, the director shall award an adjusted score (see Law 12c).

The TD decided to adjust the score on the basis that for a player of East's skill, had he thought a few seconds he certainly could have known that his comment, while well-intentioned, would serve to make declarer's waters muddier rather than clearer. The tempo alone would serve, if anything, to point declarer more towards the missing honor. The comment went too far the other way to cancel that inference (to which declarer was entitled). A skilled player "could have known" that, even though all would agree that this East had no ill intentions at all.

The TD then judged that had East played in tempo and kept silent declarer would likely have counted East for four diamonds to his partner's three and played East for the DJ.

West explained that his side had appealed because there was no possible holding where East could have had a problem. He also noted that his partner was tired and that after the deal he had explained that for a while he had not realized that NS were playing at the five level.

North explained that when East told him he had no problem he concluded that the only possible East diamond holdings were xxxx or Axxx. He thus played West for the DJ.

The ruling

The AC judged that East could not plausibly have realized that his tempo and statement might work to his own side's advantage. Accordingly the AC had no reason under the Laws to change the table result. It noted that per Law 73D1 inferences from such (innocent) variation are drawn by an opponent at his own risk.

The AC restored the table result of 5H-1, E/W +50 to both sides.
