Thanks...

The USBF wishes to thank all of those who made possible this hugely successful Michael Seamon Junior United States Bridge Championship. It is a wonderful tribute to Michael's memory and without your generous donations of money or time, it would be simply a pipe dream. 18 teams entered the events in Atlanta and that is a tribute to all of you.

Thanks to the direction of Jan Martel. Jan is the COO of the USBF and she is the key to the program at all levels... Senior, Junior, Open, and Women's.

Thanks to Michael Rosenberg for coordinating the Junior Training Program. It has grown annually under his direction. Most, if not all, of the participants in this venture have come out of that program. Thanks to Debbie Rosenberg for being "the woman behind the man" and offering her time and experience to coach when needed.

Thanks to the many mentors who have been giving their time on Sundays, Mondays, and/or Thursdays to teach, as well as play when needed, to encourage the juniors, and fill in for one another or for Michael when necessary.

Thanks to Joe Stokes for acting as Junior Committee Chairman of the USBF.

Thanks to the many parents and supporters who stepped up during this Championship to send photos and stories for this publication and the website. Special thanks to Bo Xiao and Sylvia Shi for their help.

Thanks to "Z" (Mackenzie Myers) for directing and managing the physical operation of the tournament. Z's great personality lends a good feeling to the tournament and keeps things running smoothly for all.

Thanks to Suzi Subeck for doing the Daily Bulletins remotely from Chicago. The Bulletins online give us a presence in World Bridge that we value.

Thanks to the many VuGraph operators who did a marvelous job bringing the tournament to our living rooms.

Thanks to the Commentators who spent time and energy explaining the auctions online. Special thanks to Al Hollander who does an amazing job on and off site for the USBF. Al's commentary is invaluable.

Thanks to the USBF Appeals Panel for standing by in case of need. This tournament, your service went unutilized (thankfully), but we appreciate your quick response time when we call.

If we have missed anyone, we apologize. Know that we could not function without all of the kindness and generosity that you have shown!

Millerstown had a marvelous idea – combine a winter festival with the New Year holiday. The funds raised would be used to update and expand the emergency care center of the town’s only hospital. The town enthusiastically supported this idea and turned out in droves for the event on New Year’s day. The day’s festivities included an ice sculpture art exhibit, ice skating on the town green, a cross country ski race, plenty of food, games for the kids, an auction of goods and services donated by local merchants and townspeople, and many other events and exhibits. The day’s highlight was the free-for-all snowball fight to win the “King of the Hill” trophy, which would be prominently displayed in the town hall front entrance with the names of the winning team engraved on it. Each team could have from three to five people. There were rules for when a team was out of the competition, mostly regarding how many snowball “hits” your team took, and the winning team was the last team left standing on the hilltop. Determine the placement of the last five teams, the name of each team, the name of each team’s Captain, how many members each team had, and how many snowball “hits” each team took before being called out. Note: The team placement does not go in consecutive order by the number of hits. The first place team does not have 47 hits, the second place team have 50 hits, etc.

- The two 4-member teams are Riley’s Wish and Elizabeth’s team. The 5th place team didn’t have Walter for a captain. The 4th place team had 61 hits.
- Mark’s team had less hits than On the Edge, but more hits than the 5th place team.
- All for One had 54 hits but was not the 2nd place team. Riley’s Wish was not the third place team.
- Samantha’s team and the 1st place team were two hits apart in score.
- Batters Up! won 1st place. The 5-member teams were the team with 47 hits and the 2nd place team. Larry was the captain for Fire Away!
- Samantha’s team, which wasn’t Riley’s Wish, did better than 4th place, but not as good as the 3-member team.

In Segment 7 of the U26 USA1 Final, the final segment a 14 IMP swing for the winners.

In the Open Room, Rosenberg responded to Kristensen's 1S opening. It is often tactically wise to respond... even light... in IMPs... when your opponents are vulnerable. It may keep them out of a making game (not material on this hand) but worth the mention.

Liu got aggressive when he doubled, then cue bid, then raised his partner's minimum responses to game.

Rosenberg had great spot cards, an ace and a partner who opened the bidding. He did not see hope for a successful 3NT by his opponents so he doubled for what could be a big plus score.

The C3 was ducked to the queen and a club was continued. The H6 was led to the jack and ace and another club followed. The king and queen of hearts were played. Lacking entries to hand to try the diamond finesse, the DA was cashed. The DQ went to South's king. Kristensen cashed his spade ace and king. He led the C6 to Rosenberg's ten ten. Rosenberg cashed his HT and the contract was down three.

Declarer could have saved a trick by not cashing the HQ, and instead, driving out the DK. The opponents can cash a club on which declarer pitches a spade. North can exit with the HT. Declarer will cash his red winners and play a spade, eventually scoring a spade when South gets endplayed. In the alternative, South can cash his spades before playing a club to partner, but that will squeeze North in the red suits, and now declarer will score five red tricks and the club ace, king.

In the Closed Room, Si passed his partner's opening bid. Kriegel balanced with double; Fan bid 2C. Kriegel balanced with a second double. Grossack had nothing to say. His opponents weren't vulnerable so even if this made, it was only 180.

Grossack led the H3 and Fan won the ace in dummy. Fan played the S9 to his SA and continued with the SK pitching a diamond from dummy. A small spade was ruffed with dummy's deuce and overruffed with Kriegel's five. East/West ultimately scored six tricks... three clubs and one trick in each of the other suits.

South could have saved a trick by not cashing the SK and instead, trumping a low spade at trick three scoring +180.

Still, the best that could have happened for Wei was a loss of 320 or 8 IMPs to Kaplan.

The USA2 Final had an exciting finish.

With one board to go, the Wei team had a seven IMP lead (see above).

Unfortunately for them, Wei and Liu believed they were losing the match because of several earlier poor-looking results. They had defended 7NT doubled with a cashing ace but didn't find it on the lead and were minus1790.

Two boards later Wei and Liu bid 7S on a finesse which lost...

And on the very next board, they were defeated in 3NT on a bad guess with nine tricks available.

It looked like they had lost 40 IMPs on those 3 boards. Indeed they had, but they didn't know most of those IMPs were recovered when the opponents at the other table had bad results on 3 different boards.

Given this scenario, Wei and Liu took a reasonable gamble when they bid 7D on board 30. The simple play of taking the spade finesse will make the contract. Wei noticed that there was an alternative. If South held five hearts and the SK, he would be squeezed in the majors.

After a trump lead, Wei played off his nine minor suit winners and led a heart to his ace and king. Since North had discarded a heart on the CQ, he showed out on the second round of hearts. Wei knew that North had two spades and South had one spade and the HQ. Wei led the SJ and when North played small, he went up ace, hoping that the squeeze had worked. Note that the odds favor taking the spade finesse since North held four spades and South only held two... Of course when the squeeze works, it feels so good.

Besides the 4-2 odds in favor of the finesse on this hand, Wei should have remembered the earlier hand where the finesse lost and tried for another on the theory that one out of two finesses should work! LOL

Happy New Year Everyone! Safe trips home from the Championships to all!
