Winning is great, sure, but if you are really going to do something in life, the secret is learning how to lose. Nobody goes undefeated all the time. If you can pick up after a crushing defeat, and go on to win again, you are going to be a champion someday.

Gupta/Wolfson

Both Easts opened 1D. Becker chose to respond with 1H on his 3 HCP, keeping his opponents out of the auction! When Graves bid 1S, Becker was satisfied. His vulnerable opponents were not in game (always a possible big swing) and he was at a low enough level to feel comfortable. Graves lost 2 clubs, 1 diamond, 1 spade and 1 diamond ruff for +110.

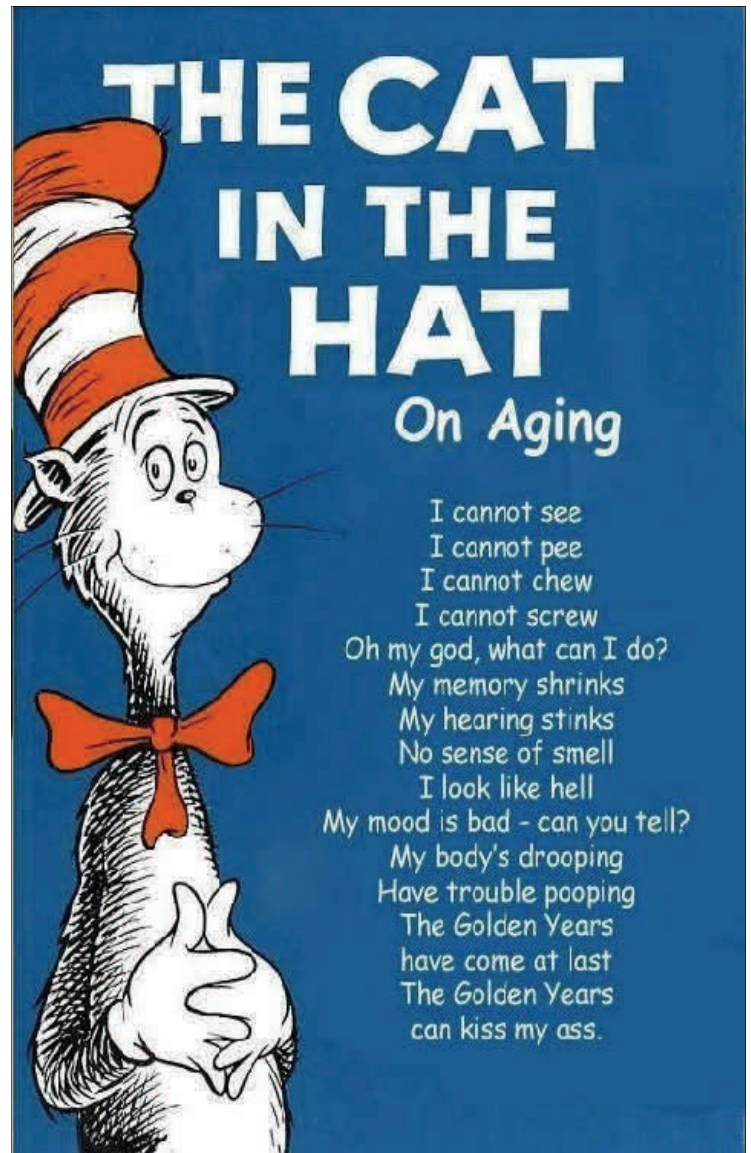

Gupta chose to pass on the West hand. Berkowitz now bid 1H. Miller bid 1S and when Sontag cued in support of hearts, Gupta raised spades. Berkowitz bid 4D, Miller took the push, and Sonty doubled. Miller lost six tricks when he tried crossruffing and ran out of trumps. Down 3! 12 IMPs to Wolfson

Funny how Becker's light response kept his side lower... At this vulnerability, it is often right to respond... on almost anything ... to keep your vulnerable opponents out! Strong club players almost always respond because they know their partner's hand is limited.

Five couples got engaged during this past year, each in a different month. Coincidentally, each couple met originally through a dating service and had no prior experience with each other. A year later, all five couples got engaged! Each man asked his girlfriend to marry him (and each was quite relieved when she agreed!) at a special event on a different day of the week. Although technically, Mark didn't plan his proposal ahead of time for a special event. His girlfriend was rushed to the hospital for emergency appendix surgery and he asked her when she came out of recovery (he thought it would help take her mind off the surgery). Determine the first name of each couple, the day of the week (Monday through Friday) and the month that each got engaged, and where each engagement took place.

- One couple got engaged in May at a friend's wedding. Jeremy asked his girlfriend in March. Mark didn't propose to his girlfriend on Wednesday.
- Chris asked Amy to marry him two months before the couple who got engaged at the opera.
- Sally's boyfriend asked her to marry him on a Friday. Ellen wasn't dating Allen. One couple got engaged on a Monday night in July but it wasn't Kristin and her boyfriend.
- One couple got engaged in October at a family birthday party but not on a Tuesday night. Marcia got engaged at the opera but Jeremy wasn't her boyfriend.
- Rick asked his girlfriend, who wasn't Kristin, to marry him two days after Marcia was asked but the day before the couple who were engaged in August.
- The five couples, in no particular order, were the couple who went to dinner, Kristin and her boyfriend, the couple who got engaged on Wednesday, Allen and his girlfriend, and the couple who got engaged in May.

Meet the Players:

Kit Woolsey

b. 1943

Kit Woolsey was born in 1943 in Washington DC. He earned a B.A. in mathematics from Oberlin College in 1964 and a master's degree from the University of Illinois in 1965. Kit lives in Kensington CA with his wife Sally, a leading player in her own right, and their two cats.

His parents taught Kit the rules of bridge when he was 9 or 10, but he had no other formal training. His first victory at the national level came in 1967, when he won the Mixed Pairs with Trudy Machlin, wife of tournament director, Jerry Machlin.

He has since formed long-term partnerships with three experts, presumably chosen in part for maximum contrast with Kit's own thick head of hair. From the late 1960s until 1978, Kit played mainly with Steve Robinson, with whom he won the Blue Ribbon Pairs and the Men's Pairs. Kit and Steve invented several conventions in common use today, including Puppet Stayman and Crash over strong club openings. The two recently revived their partnership to win the World Senior Teams in 2000 and 2003. Kit's second long-term partner was Ed Manfield, with whom he played from 1978 until Ed's death in 1999. Their major championships included the Blue Ribbon Pairs, Rosenblum Teams, Vanderbilt Teams, Grand National Teams, multiple Men's Pairs and B-A-Ms and Open Swiss Teams. Kit has been playing with his current partner, Fred Stewart, since 1999. Fred persuaded Kit to play a forcing club system for the first time, and Kit has become an enthusiastic convert.

In the late 1970s, Kit began a successful career as a bridge writer, producing Partnership Defense at Bridge, Matchpoints and Modern Defensive Signals. He was co-author of Clobber Their Artificial Club and won the IBPA award in 1977 for the best article or series on a system or convention.

If you watch Kit at the bridge table, hunched over, rocking back and forth in his chair, and frowning, you might wonder whether he is enjoying himself. At some point, though, someone will make a play Kit doesn't expect. He will sit up straight, open his eyes very wide and say, "Now that is interesting." Then his pleasure in the game is written on his face.

In the Closed Room, Becker led a spade against 3C. Graves won his king and shifted to the DQ, king, ace. Becker led a club and Graves rose with dummy's ace. A heart was led to the ace and king, and a spade was ruffed in dummy. A heart ruff, spade ruff, heart on which declarer pitched a diamond while Becker ruffed followed. There was still the losing CK out there and the contract failed by one.

In the Open Room, Miller/Gupta bid the spade game. It could have been defeated off the top if Sontag cashed his high hearts, leads a club to North's ace and gets a ruff. At the table, Sontag led the CQ, ducked to declarer's king. Miller played the DQ to the king and ace, and led a spade off dummy to his ace. He cashed the SK and DJ and played a trump to dummy discarding his losing club. Eventually, he lost three heart tricks. Contract making and 11 IMPs to Gupta

In the Closed Room, 5C, on the 6-2 fit, had no play. The HK was offside and there were two spades and a club to lose. Accordingly, Milner went down two.

In the Open Room, the Clerkin brothers found the superior contract of 5D, on the 6-1 fit with the better trump holding. There were still three losers: two spades and the HK, however, the defenders needed to be careful in their defense. Garner led his SA. Zia, the man with the flair, could have tossed his SK. Garner could then cash his SQ and exit a heart, cutting off the entry to dummy's clubs and setting up his partner's king.

Zia, liking to do things "His Way," followed low to the spade. Steven continued the suit, not being able to tell if Zia had Kx or simply x. On winning his SK, Zia took his only chance to defeat the contract. He shifted to the HK. This had the desired effect of cutting declarer's entry to the clubs, but the heart loser went away and declarer no longer needed the club suit. This defense would have been successful had declarer not held BOTH the queen and jack of hearts! 13 IMPs to Wold

In the Closed Room, Woolsey and Stewart never had a chance. They played the “routine” 4H contract doomed to failure when Becker led the D5 through dummy’s king to Graves’ ace. Graves shifted to the CA and a club to Becker’s king to score a club ruff.

In the Open Room, Neil Silverman, holding Woolsey’s cards chose a double over 3D where Woolsey jumped to the heart game. Silverman left room for Wolfson to make the judgment as to which game would be better. Wolfson, long recognized around Chicago for good instinctive play, chose 3NT. He was spot-on. Miller led a fourth best diamond. Wolfson won the queen with the king, hooked the spade king and claimed 11 tricks. 13 IMPs to Wolfson

On this same hand, in the Lewis/Mahaffey match, in the Open Room, Bates judged well to stop in 3H since 4H can’t make. The defense started with a diamond to the nine followed by the CA and club for the ruff. Nine tricks and the contract succeeded. +140

In the Closed Room, Paul Lewis and Mark Itabasi, with the absence of a 3D bid by Chambers, bid the heart game.

In spite of his partner’s 1D opening bid, Schermer chose to lead a spade going for a possible ruff. Itabashi put up dummy’s queen and it held.

Mark pulled trump in two rounds ending in dummy. He finessed the SK and played a spade to the ace.

He played the D8 and sailed it to the nine with East. Chambers played the SK which Itabashi ruffed. Itabashi played a club to the queen and ace and a club came back. 10 tricks for North/South... contract making and 10 IMPs to Lewis

In the Open Room, Casen put maximum pressure on the opponents with his 2S preempt over Granovetter's 1H opening. Bates could go either way. He could raise hearts with three to the ace, or he could show invitational values and a spade stopper. He chose the latter and bid 2NT. When Krekorian bid 3S, Granovetter could have shown his distributional strength by bidding 4D. He chose to be conservative and passed. This did not work out well for him.

Bates led a small heart from his ace to Granovetter's nine. Granovetter cashed the DK, the HK, and DA. The HQ was ruffed and Casen led the ST to the queen and ace, Granovetter discarding a diamond. CK, a club to the ace and diamond ruff followed. Recognizing Bates' S9 was going to score, Casen conceded down one.

In the Closed Room, Paul Lewis and Itabashi had an easy route to the game when Schermer overcalled 1S. Lewis could show his limit raise with a spade cue, and over Chambers double, Itabashi bid the game. Itabashi ruffed and took his nine remaining red tricks. Contract making... 12 IMPs to Lewis

Limey Jack...

Hallo Yanks:

Limey Jack is man enough to admit to making an error. For the first time, a pick went awry. Zia has shown a human side and will have to be content with going as USA 2. Congratulations to Team Wold. Limey Jack does query how Friar Tuck, nimble tho he be, can serve two masters.

In the semis of USA 2, there is still a 5 handed team as well as a Filly. The matches are:

Hamman-Falk: Look for a withdrawal from the Falk squad similar to The Falklands withdrawing against Great Britain. Zia carries the honour of the Union Jack.

Wolfson-Lewis: Limey Jack expects this to go the distance, similar in length to Howie Dung changing his knickers. Wolfson had the easier time and Lewis is shorthanded. That does tend to constrict the flow. Lewis may well have enough petrol in the tank to slip by Wolfson; alas to no avail as Zia awaits on the far side of Charing Cross Station.

Buck up Mates. This madness is on the wane.

Cheers, LJ

Howie Doing...

Petra chose Alan.
I'd have picked Paul.
The teams with the dames
Are the first ones to fall!

And Bart works with Falk
On EOC cases.
Being opponents
Is like changing places.

I, not Sir Slimey,
Told you Team Wold
Would take out Team Hamman
And bring home the gold!

I'm picking for Falk.
You should and you can.
Kate needs to stay here
To VuGraph for Jan.

Chicago loves Wolfson.
It's local appeal.
And Jeff plays his best
When he's playing with Neil.

David must stay here,
For Lisa there's need.
Four teams remain
For Lisa to feed!

Those are my picks,
And when this is through,
I'll give you the winner
Of USA2!
