Rogoff played four hearts and settled for down one when hearts broke 4-1. It's unlikely that he expected to lose 14 IMPs on the hand.

At the other table, it was clear that no one steals from Doug Simson. After making a free bid of two diamonds, he pressed on over three spades and bid four clubs. With AQJ8 of trumps and a partner who had shown the majors, Grue couldn't figure out where Simson thought he'd collect his tricks. Accordingly, he doubled and 800 later, went happily on to the next board... 14 IMPs to Jacobs

Bart Bramley wasn't in this match, but believe me, he's proud of the result. Flannery has long been Bart's favorite convention... and it should be Weinstein and Levin's after this hand too.

Johnson opened one heart on the South cards in the Open Room. This put Cheek on lead with the obvious 98754 of spades. Why would he choose another lead? He had no idea that declarer held four spades. He led the nine of spades to Grue's king, and Grue tabled a low club. Simson played low and lost two tricks in each black suit and a ruff.

In the Closed Room, Weinstein opened Flannery. Levin jumped to the heart game. Rogoff didn't want to set up the spades so he disdained the spade lead. He didn't want to lead from J9 of trumps, so he had to choose between his unsupported aces. Having more clubs than diamonds, it was more likely that a club trick could disappear. In keeping with this thinking, Rogoff chose the ace of clubs.

This lead turned out to be fatal. When the ace of clubs held, Rogoff continued the suit. Levin bounced with Dummy's king, felling Parker's queen. Bobby drew trump and conceded two spades... making four ... another 11 IMPs to Jacobs.

All About Kibitzing

WHEN CAN YOU KIBITZ IN THE PLAYING ROOMS?

You will be able to kibitz at any of the tables during this event. However, except in the Open Room during the Round Robin, you will be subject to the following regulations:

Kibitzers may enter the room ONLY at the start of play for a segment. Once play has started, the room will be closed. A kibitzer who leaves the room may not return until the start of the next session.

Cell phones and other electronic devices are not allowed in the playing rooms, even if they are turned off. Any kibitzer who is found with a cell phone will be evicted and not allowed to kibitz during the remainder of the tournament.

When a match is being shown on BBO Vugraph, no kibitzer may sit on the same side of the table as the Vugraph operator.

Screens

All of the USWBC is played with screens. If you've never kibitzed at a table with screens before, you need to know that it is quite different from kibitzing at a regular table. You need to be seated at an "open" corner of the table (not next to the screen) in order to see much, and once there are 4 kibitzers at a table it will be very hard for additional kibitzers to see.

USBF KIBITZING RULES

The USBF General Conditions of Contest contain specific rules about kibitzers. They are designed to promote security at the tournament and are set forth in the conditions of contest section labeled "Security." They are:

1. General Rules
  - a. During any use of duplicated boards across multiple matches, Kibitzers must select one table for kibitzing and may not move to any other table during a session or segment.
  - b. Kibitzers may not speak with players, must watch only one hand at a time, may not sit in such a position as to see more than one hand at a time, may not sit in such a position as to see a computer screen in use for Internet broadcast, must check communication devices with the Director, cannot call attention to irregularities other than a board being placed incorrectly on the table (arrow positioning), but may serve as witnesses to a possible irregularity.
2. In the Open Room:
  - a. If there is a live, or nearly live Internet broadcast of any match in the Open Room, kibitzers shall abide by the same rules as those applicable to the Closed Room.
  - b. If there is no live, or nearly live Internet broadcast of any match in the Open Room then kibitzers, media, and NPC's may enter and return until such time as any table from the closed room has finished the segment. Once any table in the Closed room has finished, no one may return to the Open room after leaving unless escorted while absent.
  - c. In either event, Open Room kibitzers are expected to abide by the same rules as the players regarding leaving the room and returning (e.g. be escorted to the restroom).
3. In the Closed Room:
  - a. Kibitzers must enter the Closed Room before play commences. Kibitzers in the closed room are required to remain until the segment of play is completed at the table they are watching or to leave the playing area entirely. Closed Room kibitzers are expected to abide by the same rules as the players regarding leaving the room (e.g. be escorted to the restroom).
  - b. Except as expressly provided in these conditions and appendices, NPC's shall be subject to the WBF General Conditions, Section 17.
  - c. No one other than the Internet broadcast personnel and Tournament Directors may watch any computer screen or any other mechanism for enabling the Internet broadcast at any time in either the Closed or the Open Room.

VuGraph Information

The 2009 USBC will be covered on BBO Vugraph starting with the Round of 32. In the Rounds of 32 and 16 we will be covering 1, 2 or 3 of the matches being played. From the Quarterfinals on, we will cover all of the tables in play.

To watch the Vugraph online, go to the BBO website where you can either log on directly from your browser, go to "Vugraph" and choose which table to watch or download the BBO software to run BBO on your computer.

If you choose the latter approach, after downloading, install the software on your computer, log on, follow the directions to become a BBO member and you'll be magically transported to the Lobby of the largest bridge club in the world.

Click on the button labeled EXPLORE BRIDGE and then on the button labeled VUGRAPH THEATRE and you'll be able to choose which of the USBC matches you want to watch.

There will usually be a "yellow" user on BBO called USBF. If you have general questions, please ask USBF, not one of the hard-working Vugraph Operators, some of whom may prefer not to respond to private messages. Thank you.

Each day's schedule is the same (these are New York times; to see the times for your time-zone, go to the BBO Vugraph schedule site)

10:00-12:10
12:25-2:35
3:45-5:55
6:10-8:20

During the Quarterfinals, Semifinals and Finals, all of the teams will play the same boards, unless one or more matches gets sufficiently far behind that they have to start later than the other matches, in which case, for security reasons, they will play different boards.

During the Rounds of 32 & 16, all of the teams shown on Vugraph will play the same boards in the first and third segments each day. In the second and fourth segments, those matches that start on time will play the same boards.

After a session, you can review the Vugraph action on our Web Vugraphs, which show each hand played with a link to bidding and play records. Take a look at the older events currently available (under Archived Results) to see what we'll have for the 2009 USBC.

Web Vugraphs are posted within about half an hour of completion of the Vugraph show.

Hand-y Man

A gynecologist had become fed up with malpractice insurance and HMO paperwork, and was burned out.

Hoping to try another career where skillful hands would be beneficial; he decided to become a mechanic.

He went to the local technical college, signed up for evening classes, attended diligently and learned all he could.

When the time of the practical exam approached, the gynecologist prepared carefully for weeks, and completed the exam with tremendous skill.

When the results came back, he was surprised to find that he had obtained a score of 150%.

Fearing an error, he called the Instructor, saying, "I'm grateful for such an outstanding result, but I wonder if there is an error in the grade."

The instructor said, "During the exam, you took the engine apart perfectly, which was worth 50% of the total mark. You put the engine back together again perfectly, which is also worth 50% of the mark."

After a pause, the instructor added, "I gave you an extra 50% because you did it all through the muffler, which I've never seen done in my entire career."

Both rooms played 3NT from South. Both Wests led a small diamond and both declarers made the mathematically favored play of the eight from dummy to the king and ace.

Since declarer needs to drive out both black aces, diamonds must be 6-2 for the hand to make. Looking at all the hands, we can see that simply laying down the king of clubs will work well since the jack of clubs is in the pocket. Declarer isn't playing double dummy.

Eric Rodwell, declarer in the Closed Room, won the diamond lead and led a spade to dummy's queen and Rubin's ace. A diamond was returned and he had no play.

Since the jack of clubs and ace of clubs are equally likely to be favorably placed, Mike Kamil found a small improvement on the play in the Open Room. As a result, he made 3NT. He crossed to dummy in hearts and led a spade FROM dummy... a variant on the Morton's Fork.

When RHO holds the ace of spades, he is not likely to rise and declarer can now revert to clubs. In the event that RHO rises with the spade ace, declarer has a good play for three spade tricks and will not need to drive out the club.

In the actual case, RHO ducked. Kamil won his spade king and played the club king from hand. As long as the club jack was on his right, the opponents were helpless.

Even if RHO held both black aces, Kamil might have had time to develop a ninth trick since the diamonds would be stranded.

Kudos to Kamil for an outstanding line of play.

For those of you who may not know it, Walter Johnson plays on Bridge Base Online under the alias: Bigtrain. Here Walter, and his partner, Doug Simson were merrily bidding their way to toward slam when suddenly Simson passed four hearts and there they were.

Four hearts made five ... but 6NT was cold. Bigtrain better instruct the ca-boose to stay on the track next time!

At the other table, they played 3NT making six for a 1 IMP gain to Jacobs.

After a few seconds the person who passed his partner's 2C opening realized what he had done and gasped "wait, wait". He was not allowed to change his call since the call was not inadvertent but deliberate, i.e. an intended call caused by not seeing the auction correctly.

Committee Decision:

The Committee had no reason to disturb the ruling, since no facts were established to demonstrate that East's Pass was inadvertent. East admitted that he did not see the 2♣ bid, so he intended to pass on the auction he saw.

The Committee felt that Trials players should know to identify rulings on matters of law, appeals from which are severely limited in scope.

After 2♥-3♥, the tray remained on the other side of the screen for over one minute. After the 4♠ bid, the director was summoned by the player on the same side of the screen as the slow passer. After the hand was played, the Director determined that there had indeed been a one minute break in tempo and the break in tempo was noticed by the players on the other side of the screen. Six players were asked about the hand and all six bid 4♠ (quickly) and did not consider passing. The table result was allowed to stand (E/W +620, 4♠ making 4.)

Committee Decision

The Committee agreed with the poll (all 6 respondents bid 4♠, 5 did so without thought) that Pass was not a Logical Alternative to 4♥, thus making irrelevant the issue of whether any Unauthorized Information had been transmitted from the other side of the screen. Although East did not commit himself to bidding game when he bid 3♥ (it was assumed he would have passed had the auction continued Pass - 3♠ - Pass), the auction literally dictated that he bid 4♠ for all the obvious reasons - partner almost certainly had a singleton heart, either game might make, etc. The Committee upheld the table result of 4♠ making 4.

There was a one to two minute time lapse before the tray came back with 5♥-P. The Director was summoned after the 6♥ bid. Six players were questioned about the bidding and three said they would pass 5♥. Other players were questioned about bidding slam with various possible hands and the consensus was that there were some likely hands where slam would be below 50%. The Director assigned a score of 480 to N/S (5♥ making 6.)

Committee Decision

The Committee did not view this as a typical Hesitation Blackwood auction, both because West had not asked for keycards and because two keycards could not be missing with the opponents holding the KQJ of diamonds according to system. Therefore East was entitled to reconstruct possible West hands to determine whether slam would be desirable. East had contended that West would not bid 2♥ with only J109xxx but would rebid his 4-card black suit, so that if the KQ of hearts were missing West would have a 7-card suit. No evidence was introduced to support this contention. The Committee felt that in what was essentially a coded auction, West's exercise of judgment would more likely be limited to promoting an 11-count than making a rebid that in theory denied a 6-card suit when he held one.

Thus given a 12 or promoted 11-count and a diamond void, there were hands on which E-W wanted to be in slam (Axxx, QJxxxx, -, KQx; AJx, J10xxxxx, - KQx), hands on which they wouldn't really care (Axx, KJ10xxx, -, QJxx; AJx, Jxxxxxx, -, KQJ) and hands on which they didn't want to be in slam (Jxx, KJ10xxx, -, KQJx; AJx, Q9xxxx, -, KQxx). It was clear even without the poll that had been taken (3 out of 6 passed 5♥, and all of the others thought about it) that Pass was an LA.

The Committee agreed that some part of West's hesitation was likely to be confirming the meaning of 5♦, but the fact that it lasted well beyond normal indicated that West had continued interest in slam after processing the Exclusion Keycard information. Thus the hesitation did demonstrably suggest that East bid 6♥, which he could not be permitted to do. The fact that West had a completely different problem was not relevant, since all that mattered was East's perception consistent with their methods. The Committee upheld the directors' ruling to adjust the score to 5♥, making 6.

Finally, the Committee thought that it is incumbent on pairs playing exotic methods to be aware of system-created tempo sensitive situations so as not to create a possible advantage for their side. That is not to say that East wouldn't have engaged in the same analysis he did over 5♥ without a hesitation and made the same decision. Rather, when system players like East and West both know that a slow signoff like 5♥ could be caused in part by system uncertainty, they can not benefit when East chooses a winning action after extended system review that such uncertainty encourages.

Jack Gets His Revenge...

Pablo, Pablo, Pablo.

My little Spanish friend; you got so excited that you finally got more right than wrong. Alas, it was so short lived as today you resumed your normal position on the totem pole; bottom. Please note that Limey Jack had ALL the winners and ALL the leaders in USA 1. Not only that but Limey Jack even called the matches where pippage occurred and those of a more substantial gappage.

My word it feels good to be perfect.

Limey Jack does not get any extra bob for hands, but this one will be talked about for a long time to come. My best boy Melih bid to a grand slam in his match against Diamond where at one point they were down 53 in the fourth quarter. Their side suit of Clubs was QJx opposite xxx. When the grand was doubled, Melih redoubled, the wrong suit was led and a 19 imp swing went scurrying to Istanbul.

Ozdil is playing as though they fear no man. Let's have them knock off the Strul team tomorrow, shall we. There are many partnerships at this event that are in their swan song; of which the most famous is Berkowitz-Cohen. Godspeed, gentle fellows.

Jacobs-Cohler: Very tough to call. With 3 New Yorkers to only two, I shall give home field advantage, as well as the win, to Jacobs.

In the main event; just to show that there is honour among thieves, I shall spot Pablo 30 imps to use as he sees fit and take the front running duo just as I predicted yesterday.

Cheers to all you Yanks and enjoy the show.

Pablo Picks up the Pieces...

No one can be perfect every day. Jack was only semi-perfect in spite of his claim of infallibility ... Don't take any wooden Nickells, Jack... remember team Nickell has had some memorable comebacks. If my memory serves me right, one of those comebacks was against the limo king... and you're picking the king to pull through tomorrow.

The Cohler-Jacobs match is a tough call. Cohler is apt to get hung up in the car wash... but since I have 30 IMPs to play with, I'll take Jacobs plus 30 ... and Cohler straight up. Jacobs is good but Cohler is Smokin' ... only outside please!!

Your Turkish buddy and his team are heading home. You can smoke anywhere in Istanbul and still not lose three IMPs. It'll be a "grand" day for Strul... not Ozdil... when the smoke clears.

And I must apologize for my typo yesterday... Ed Shapiro of Camp Hill, PA pointed out that it is the Chevy Nova, not the Chevy Vega that is the "no Go" limo... not that either one of them was worth driving... and we all wonder why GM is in the throes of bankruptcy.

See you manana!!

Pablo

Going into the fourth quarter of yesterday's match, Ozdil was trailing by 34 IMPs.

The first five boards of the final segment didn't change this score. Obviously Ozdil and Lair needed some swings.

With that in mind, Lair gambled on a small slam on Board 51 and Ozdil, not realizing that Lair had taken the gamble, upped the ante by raising it to a grand slam.

Given Lair's jump to six hearts, it's likely he holds a void somewhere. Otherwise, he could have easily Blackwooded instead of guessing the slam.

The seven heart bid by an aggressive player is a good gamble when his team needs a swing. In the absence of this match condition and the known gambling penchant of East, it would seem that North's double clearly asked for a diamond lead ... the only suit that West bid naturally. If he had never bid a suit, one could argue the double is for clubs. In this case, it appears North was probably trying to tell his partner that he had a cashing ace and expected to beat the hand.

Unfortunately for Hampson/Greco, with no double, South probably would lead a club since he suspects a spade void. Instead, he played the double to call for the lead of dummy's first bid suit, and dutifully led the called for diamond.

Lair/Ozdil scored +2940 for a gain of 18 IMPs. At the other table, Gitelman and Moss bid six hearts but Shi and Yang took the six spade sacrifice, going down five for -1100.

Four old retired guys are walking down a street in Naples, Florida . They turned a corner and see a sign that says, 'Old Timers Bar - all drinks 10 cents.' They look at each other, and then go in, thinking this is too good to be true. The old bartender says in a voice that carries across the room, 'Come on in and let me pour one for you!

What'll it be, Gentlemen?' There seemed to be a fully-stocked bar, so each of the men ask for a martini. In short order, the bartender serves up four iced martinis...shaken, not stirred, and says, 'That'll be 10 cents each, please' The four men stare at the bartender for a moment. Then look at each other...they can't believe their good luck.

They pay the 40 cents, finish their martinis, and order another round. Again, four excellent martinis are produced with the bartender again saying, 'That's 40 cents, please.' They pay the 40 cents, but their curiosity is more than they can stand. They have each had two martinis and so far they've spent less than a dollar. Finally one of the men says, 'How can you afford to serve martinis as good as these for a dime a piece?' 'I'm a retired air traffic controller,' the bartender said, and I always wanted to own a bar. Last year I hit the Lottery for $25 million and decided to open this place. Every drink costs a dime - wine, liquor, beer, it's all the same. "Wow!!!! That's quite a story," says one of the men. The four of them sipped at their martinis and couldn't help but notice seven other people at the end of the bar who didn't have drinks in front of them, and hadn't ordered anything the whole time they were there.

One man gestures at the seven at the end of the bar without drinks and asks the bartender, "What's with them?" The bartender says, "Oh, they're all bridge players. They're waiting for happy hour when drinks are half price."

The Ozdil team benefited from another slam swing later in the match.

This time it was Yang/Shi who bid an aggressive 31 HCP no-trump slam from South.

Looking at just the N/S cards, some luck will be necessary... probably the king of hearts outside and split diamond honors... certainly not a high percentage slam.

Gitelman led a high diamond from his KQ and Shi showed himself to be an able declarer.

He won the diamond and returned a diamond. Gitelman won this and continued the suit. Shi now cashed the spade AK on which Moss discarded a heart. Shi continued ace of clubs and a club to the queen and then cashed the spade QJ, discarding hearts from his hand.

This created the following four card end position:

On the play of a third club, Gitelman discarded a diamond, delaying the pain.

Shi won the club king and cashed the jack of diamonds.

Gitelman was forced to give up his heart guard, and simultaneously, Moss was squeezed in hearts and clubs.

Moss chose to discard a heart and the last two tricks were taken by dummy's A7 of hearts.

Nice play, Xiaodong, for a 13 IMP gain.

Odoriffic...

"The blonde walks into a pharmacy and asks the assistant for some bottom deodorant. The pharmacist, a little bemused, explains to the woman that they don't sell bottom deodorant, and never have. Unfazed, the blonde assures the pharmacist that she has been buying the stuff from this store on a regular basis, and would like some more.

"I'm sorry," says the pharmacist, "we don't have any."

"But I always get it here," says the blonde.

Do you have the container it comes in?"

Yes!" said the blonde, "I will go and get it."

She returns with the container and hands it to the chemist who looks at it and says to her, "This is just a normal stick of underarm deodorant."

The annoyed blonde snatches the container back and reads out loud from the container, "To apply, push up bottom."
